BADH

A woman must reconnect with her past as a lethal secret service agent to protect the man she loves. Relentless, she will take down anyone who stands in her way.

Alma, a young French woman with a secret past, has found peace as a surf instructor in beautiful Essaouira, Morocco. She shares her life with Ilias, a local police officer investigating the powerful Khoury crime family.

When Ilias is shot and left in a coma, Alma must reconnect with her former identity as BADH, a ruthless intelligence operative and skilled assassin. She brutally eliminates members of the Khoury family one by one, unleashing the fury of their leader Mansour, only to discover that Mansour is working with Joana, her former secret service unit officer.

Now BADH is engaged in a deadly chase across the country, leading to a spectacular face-off in Casablanca. There is no limit to how far she'll go to protect the man she loves.

WHAT IS LOVE?

(C'EST QUOI L'AMOUR ?)

Marry me once, divorce me twice.

Marguerite and Sofiane are a happily married couple trying to survive the chaos of parenting their teenage daughter Raphaëlle. But their daily routine is disrupted when Marguerite's ex-husband Fred shows up with an urgent, and utterly absurd request; they need to get divorced again .... but this time it's to annul their Catholic marriage! Initially dismissive, Marguerite goes along with this yet doesn't take the process seriously. Alter all, what could possibly go wrong? But her flippant attitude inadvertently sets off a chain reaction of bureaucratie absurdities. Before they know it, Marguerite, Sofiane, their teenage daughter Raphaëlle, Cloe, Fred's new girlfriend, as well as Lea, Marguerite and Fred's adult daughter, ail embark on a crazy and highly unorthodox trip to the Vatican.

UNSUBMISSIVES

(LE GANG DES AMAZONES)

The true story of four young ordinary women, who driven by desperation and societal neglect, accidentally become bank robbers.

Early 1990's, south of France. Katy, Hélène, Laurence and Carole have been best friends since childhood. Now in their twenties, they find themselves struggling with hardship and limited opportunities in their sunny small hometown. Despite their challenging circumstances, they have maintained a resilient and cheerful spirit, supporting each other throughout life's ups and downs. But their lives take a dramatic turn when Hélène, a single mother of three, receives a sudden notification that her welfare checks have been reduced, threatening her ability to support her family. Overwhelmed by this injustice and feeling powerless in the face of societal inequalities, the four women are driven by a fierce desire to change the course of their lives. They make the shocking decision to rob a bank, and soon, commit a series of increasingly daring heists.

THE FUTURE AWAITS

(LA VIE DEVANT MOI)

Based on the testimony of Tauba Birenbaum, collected in July 1997 as part of the Institute for Visual History of Steven Spielberg.

Paris, July 1942, based on a true story. As the rounding up of Jewish families multiply, 13-year-old Tauba, and her parents, Polish Jews, find refuge in a tiny room, under the roofs of Paris. Living conditions are tough, and each day merges into the next when you are locked up in only 6 square meters, and in constant fear of being discovered. But while her parents sink further into despair, Tauba's fighting spirit shines through! She finds joy in all manner of things, from a piano drawn on the floor, to marveling at the views of Paris through an open window. Despite the extreme circumstances of her daily life, she will keep hope until the liberation of Paris, and take back control of her life.
